

8tunnel2 collaboration between Isak Eldh and Daniel Skoglund 1998 - ?
 Ville Cederblad was a 3:d member in the beginning, he joined at the first 3 or 4 live shows. 8tunnel2 started out much as a club act influenced by experimental techno, dub etc. until 2003 it has been a continuous search for new sounds made by new kinds of instruments in as many different spaces as possible. We had a great hit when we played electronically on vegetables in a super market 2001. It was televised in the famous cooking program "Mat" (mat=food) in the Swedish public television. 8tunnel2 became the platform for almost everything we did for a time. I even made 8tunnel2 the platform for my final exhibition at Valand school of fine arts. We did a series of performances at places associated with power and hierarchical structures including a military training center, an elementary school and a christian church. We released an EP at Blenda records in 2000 and some cdr:s through the Braxatronic label in 2002. In the future 8tunnel2 is pla
